

Be A Tutor!

To: _____

We hope you will consider being a peer tutor this year!

Hello! Because of your excellent academic accomplishments, you have been recommended to act as a peer tutor. Peer tutors meet with students who are struggling in a particular class to assist them with the course material and test preparation. It is recommended that you be available to meet with the student you are helping 2 – 3 times a week during a common study hall. If you meet over 40 times during the semester you can receive $\frac{1}{4}$ credit. Regular attendance is very important. Why tutor? Teaching is an excellent way to help you better retain the material, it looks good on your college applications and resume, and it's a nice way of meeting people and working with others outside of your peer group.

If you will be able to be a peer tutor this year, please complete the bottom of this sheet and return it to the box marked "Tutoring" in the guidance department. At that point, your name and available class hours will go into our master list. When the need arises for your help, we will contact you to arrange the schedule and give you tutoring guidelines.
